Frequently Asked Questions

Can I complete this if I am not a U.S. resident or citizen?

Yes – Once your residency status is reviewed, we may need some additional documentation. However, if you have any questions contact the dual credit team.

In the application, how do I know which semester I will start classes?

If you are uncertain about which semester your classes will start, check with your high school counselor.

Do I have to finish the application when I start it? What if I need to get more information from my parent or guardian?

No – You can complete the application at your own pace. However, you must save each section as you go. When you log back in, you can pick up where you left off.

What information must I have or know to complete the application?

You will need some details such as your home address, residency status, citizenship status, place of birth, your contact information and your parent or guardian's contact information. Having these details will help make the process easier.

What is the difference between preferred and former name?

Your preferred name is the name you feel comfortable with and currently use. A former name refers to any legal name you had in the past, like if you had a different last name once.

I don't know which race to select because I don't feel like any of them apply to me.

If none of the options feel like a good fit, choose one that most closely applies to you.

What is considered a social service agency?

Social service agencies provide support to individuals and communities in need, such as mental health support, food, or housing assistance, etc

How do I know if I am a dependent or independent taxpayer?

If you are a minor living with a parent or guardian and receiving more than half of your support from them, you are considered a dependent taxpayer. If you are still unsure about your status, check with your parent or guardian.

What happens when I edit a part of my application during the review process?

Your updated responses will be submitted as a part of your final application submission.

What is "Family and Friends?" What are "Third-Party Permissions?"

Family and Friends allows you to add family or friends to your account in case of an emergency. You must add a parent or guardian as an emergency contact. Third-Party Permissions means people can access information such as your academic records and financial and enrollment details.
